

Hey, Dad ... this Ken Ham guy says
dinosaurs lived on Earth with people.

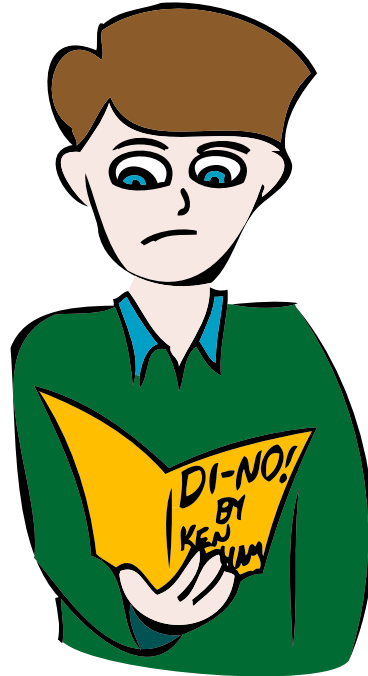

Really? Hmm. Does that make sense to you?

No ... Tyrannosaurs and allosaurs were huge. They would have eaten everything, including any people they found.

That's right. So if this were true, there probably wouldn't be any people left on Earth today.

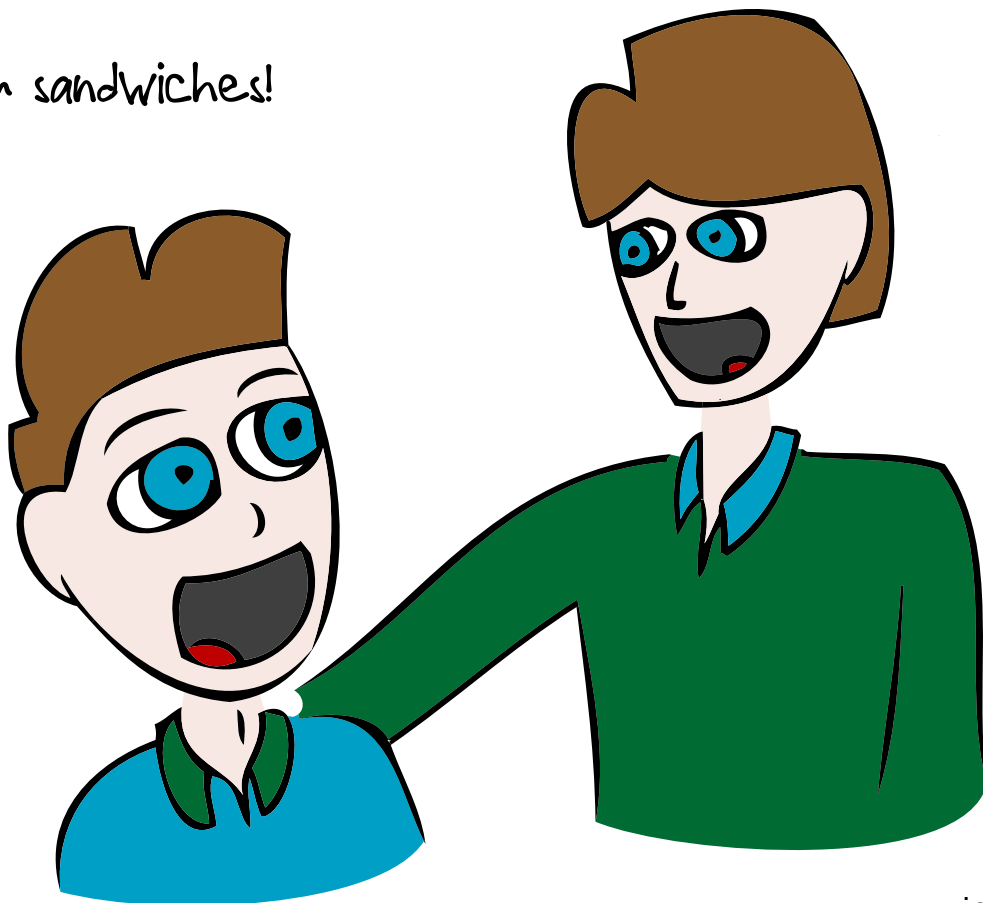

Yes! Wanna guess what it was?

But ... they must have been eating something!

Ham sandwiches!

I love you, son.